

WIN WAYNE LAVALLE'S green dress cd!

Talented Cree/Metis Singer, Songwriter and Actor Wayne Lavalley is proud to offer Bloodlines' readers a chance to win one of five signed copies of his brilliant new CD 'Green Dress', which has been nominated as 'Aboriginal Recording of the Year' by the 2005 Juno Awards. The 2005 Juno Awards Ceremony will be broadcast live on Sunday April 3rd on CTV.

"I feel the reason Aboriginal youth are at high risk for HIV/AIDS in our Native Communities, especially on Reserve, is that we have lost the healthy Teachings around sexuality and our physical bodies. I have a lot of hope for our Communities because I know our people have started the Healing process - there is so much to reclaim!

"I believe that our 'Coming of Age Ceremonies' are the most important gift one can give to a young man or young woman to guide them in understanding and celebrating their bodies and sexuality. It will take a lot more to prevent HIV/AIDS than just wearing a condom . . . we have to go deeper and clear away the intergenerational guilt and shame and reintroduce positive, healthy, sexual role models!"

Prevention is better than cure...

Youth Art & Poetry Competition are you...

...an Aboriginal or Metis under 25 years of age and think you've got what it takes as a Visual Artist or Poet to deliver the "Prevention Is Better Than Cure" message to our First Nations Youth? - Bloodlines thinks you do!

In our "Youth & Awareness Edition" Summer 2005 Issue #5, Bloodlines will devote two full pages to the winners of our "Prevention is better than cure" Art & Poetry Competition, comprising one full page of Visual Art, and one full page of Poetry. See Rita George-Green's Thunderbird and William White's poem on page 45 of this issue and you'll get the idea!

Send your original artwork or poetry to us on one piece of paper no larger than 190 x 254 mm (7.5" x 10"), accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope and the Bloodlines "Prevention Is Better Than Cure" Competition Entry Form and Parent or Guardian Approval Form (if under 19 years of age).

Judging will take place on Monday, April 18th, 2005. Winners will be notified by telephone and letter.

Ensure that your Visual Art is packed in a flat, rigid envelope as you will not be able win if the original has creases - and make sure your Parent or Guardian Approval Form has been signed and completed if you are under 19 years of age. Artwork or Poetry will be presented anonymously for judging by the production team at Bloodlines. Judges decisions are final and no correspondence will be entered into.

Mail your Art or Poetry, accompanied by your signed Competition Entry Form (and if you are under 19 years of age, include your Parent or Guardian signed Approval Form) to reach our offices before Friday, April 15th 2005, to:
